Kent County Council Act 2001 - Occasional Sales

Record of Attendance - multiple entries - to be completed by sales organiser or his/her representative

The Kent County Council Act 2001 came into force on 1st December 2001 and requires holders of occasional sales to record all sellers who attend.
It is a criminal offence to record false information. Those who intentionally provide false details could be prosecuted and are liable on conviction to a max. fine of £2500.

DATE OF EVENT: _____ LOCATION: _____ SHEET No. :_____OF_____

NAME	ADDRESS	POST CODE	VEHICLE REGISTRATION (Used to transport the goods to the sale)	GOODS (New or Second-hand or Both)